Novi Sad, the second largest city in Yugoslavia, is the city that not only its citizens but also many others consider the most beautiful one. Novi Sad is a university, economic, fair, cultural-artistic and health centre. The City of an exquisite beauty and rich cultural-historical tradition has always known how to greet and host its guests. Novi Sad arose on the left bank of the river Danube, in Backa. It spreads across the alluvial terrace and on the old Danube road, at the site of the most suitable approach to the Danube and most convenient crossing from Backa into Srem, where the Danube is only 350 m wide. There is also The Petrovaradin Fortress which is an attractive location and numerous archaeological findings still witness it. The symbol of the Fortress is the Clock standing on the view terrace – it's small hand indicating minutes and the big hand indicating hours so that the passengers on board the ships navigating along the Danube could be able to read the time from a long distance.

Thank you and WELCOME!
